what do we do?

Classbunny has been providing fun workshops in Sydney and beyond for over 9 years and has taught thousands of people in that time. We provide workshops in craft and the arts to councils, not-for-profits, conferences, libraries and corporate clients. We can teach from one to five hundred attendees and our approach is informed by years of teaching in formal higher education both here in Australia and the UK.

Our sessions are carefully planned and developed and give attendees an authentic experience to help them to develop their creativity.

Each class is project based and people come away with a piece of art or crafty object made by them.

We have a constantly changing range of topics that we teach and can design bespoke classes especially tailored to your organisation or event. Just ask.

Live Stream? Or Face to Face?

If you book a class with classbunny you can choose between a covid safe event that is face to face, socially distanced and follows the latest covid safety measures or you can have your next team build totally live streamed.

With notice we can even swap over from face to face to live stream to cover any eventuality, restrictions or lock downs. This means your team building and events can carry on...no matter what the future holds.

We only need a minimum of 12 people for a private class and can accommodate more than 100 people at festivals and events in the greater Sydney area. If you would like a quote for an activity for your event please email Pamela at pamela.classbunny@gmail.com
